NATURAL SOURCING FEATURES ORGANIC VIRGIN CHIA SEED OIL

64-73% Omega-3 Alpha Linolenic Acid

Oxford, CT (December 9, 2014) - Natural Sourcing is pleased to feature its premium Organic Virgin Chia Seed Oil within its growing line of specialty organic ingredients for use in innovative personal care product formulations.

INCI: Salvia Hispanica (Chia) Seed Oil (and) Tocopherol

Method of Extraction: Cold Pressed and Filtered

Shelf Life: 1 Year

Origin: Nicaragua

Organic Virgin Chia Seed Oil is a remarkable and stable source of Omega-3 essential fatty acids (up to 73%) and Omega-6 essential fatty acids (up to 23%). The natural antioxidant composition and the added tocopherols (525mg/l) of Natural Sourcing Organic Virgin Chia Seed Oil helps to maintain the stability of the oil. It is considered much more stable than flax seed oil and other vegetable oils rich in omega-3. The oil is also a good source of B-vitamins and minerals, including zinc.

Natural Sourcing's superior quality Organic Virgin Chia Seed Oil requires over five kilograms of seeds to produce a single liter of oil. After pressing, the oil is gently filtered. Tocopherols (525mg/l) are added for stability. The oil is then carefully packaged to maintain the purity, freshness and beneficial properties of this remarkably nutritive oil.

Uses:

Organic Virgin Chia Seed Oil is a versatile oil that nourishes the skin and leaves it feeling hydrated. With its impressive Omega-3 essential fatty acid composition (up to 73%), it is naturally anti-inflammatory. Organic Virgin Chia Seed Oil is considered an effective ingredient for helping to address the concerns associated with maturing skin and the symptoms of a wide array of problematic skin and hair conditions. It helps to balance problem skin, does not clog the pores and is a good choice for oily skin.
